Baxa Corporation, Ranking in Top 35 of Denver's Largest Private Companies, Advances in Both Denver Business Journal and ColoradoBiz Magazine Lists

Englewood-based Baxa Corporation has been named among the top 35 largest private companies in the area by both the Denver Business Journal (DBJ) and ColoradoBiz Magazine

Englewood, Colo. – Baxa Corporation has been named one of the Denver metro area's largest private companies in both the ColoradoBiz Magazine and Denver Business Journal (DBJ) annual rankings. In each publication, Baxa was in the Top 35 for 2008 and moved up five places to #32 in the DBJ (up from #37 in 2007) and #33 in ColoradoBiz (up from #38 in 2007).

Both Denver publications survey hundreds of area companies annually in order to identify the top performers. Participating companies are analyzed based on self-reported gross revenue over the past three years.

"I am pleased that Baxa was recognized again among such distinguished private companies. Baxa is a company that was bootstrapped with very little investment capital by our founders back in 1975," says Greg Baldwin, Chairman and CEO. "We have defied the odds to achieve consistent, profitable growth over three decades," he continues. "By taking a generational view, we have built Baxa organically through associate engagement, customer focus, and innovation. We are proud of the leading role we play in medication preparation and delivery worldwide,"

Further, Baxa Corporation was named a finalist for the third consecutive year in the Best Companies to Work for in Colorado competition. Inc.com also included Baxa Corporation in its annual ranking of the 5,000 fastest-growing private companies in the country, the Inc 5000, for the second consecutive year.
